CORNER STONE WILL BE LAID

The cornerstone of the new St. Augustine chapel of the Catholic Mission, at Waikiki, will be laid tomorrow afternoon, the Bishop of Honolulu officiating. A large number of persons will be present to witness the ceremonies. Next week, July 13, a fair and luau will be given by several ladies of the church at the Drillshed in aid of the chapel. Father Valentin is the chief worker in the movement to give Waikiki a handsome edifice.

The first chapel was erected in 1857 by Rev. Father Modeste, one of the pioneers of the Catholic church in Hawaii. Once a year a mass was celebrated on St. Augustine's Day, and later on only afternoon services were held from time to time. On the arrival of the first volunteers, in 1898, the mass was said every Sunday at 8:30, but the chapel being too small to accommodate the great number, a temporary shed was erected on the same premises. After the departure of the volunteers the Catholic congregation has increased ever since.

Its members, with the consent of their pastor, Rev. F. Valentin, have opened a subscription list for the erection of the new church. The building was designed and planned by Father Valentin himself at the suggestion of the members of the congregation. The structure will be all wood, sixty feet long and thirty-two feet wide. The entire length will be open lattice work which will give plenty of air to the interior, greatly needed in a tropical climate.

The Smith Case.

The Smith case has been nolle prossed, and thus ends the great episode of the special Grand Jury which created frantic excitement, engendered any quantity of ill-feeling and bile and has resulted in nothing tangible save the discomfort of some of those who hoped to profit by that stroke of political finesse.—Star.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured, and which is always kept on hand at the home of every family. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing (Pa.) Journal. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale agents.

Today at noon, at Morgan's salesroom, there will be sold at public auction a number of vehicles, horses and mules. At the same time and place there will also be sold some 300 bags of barley and 200 bags of middlings.
